

ASSET TECHNICAL BULLETIN-10-30-2006

Internet Explorer 7.0. Release

The State is aware of the recent production release of Internet Explorer 7.0. While many partner agencies do not allow users to download software, some locations might do so. As a result we'd like to strongly recommend that our partner agencies do not install IE 7.0 for some time while the State tests all applications to ensure that they continue to work as expected. While we don't expect widespread issues, we have already identified several applications and tools that no longer work as expected. We anticipate it could take several months to flesh out and resolve all issues. Your patience and cooperation are appreciated.